3. Career goals

To achieve every goal I set for myself and to contribute to the pharmaceutical profession on a national and international level through education, hard work, innovation, determination and good teamwork in humbleness and thankfulness. I would like to work in an organized workplace where I can set high standards for myself and where all employees work towards a common goal. Interaction and trust between colleagues flavour the working environment. I perform on my best when I am challenged with a difficulty or problem. Nothing gives me greater pleasure in the workplace but to meet expectations, goals and/or targets as well as improving production, cost-effectiveness and/or general company image.
